"What a fine cat", the new dad Said.

"Don't put up your hand", Jane Said to Alison. "We don't want him here".

Jane wrote, "He does not like cats. I do not like him".

"That's not a cat", said William. "That is a loo brush".

"Ssss", said William.

"Lots of people don't like cats", mum said.

"Tell-tale, tell-tale", William hissed.

"He's a grown-up cat and he knows his way about", said Mr. Singh.

"After school I'll get you", said William

"Don't be a baby", Andrea Said.

"Tell me where you live", Jane's mum Said, "and I will take you home.

"It's a poor little boy who has got lost", Andrea Said, loudly.

Kind Words

Kind words are things to say that make other people feel good about themselves and make them feel happy. They show that you respect the person you are speaking to.

Unkind Words

Unkind words are things you say that make other people sad and unhappy. They are hurtful and show disrespect to the person you are speaking to. Unkind words should be kept to yourself and never said aloud.
