

The Hodgeheg

by Dick King-Smith

Spoonerisms

Because Max got a bump on the head, his thoughts are all muddled up and his speech becomes confusing. He starts to use “Spoonerisms” – these are where he gets the first sounds of some words mixed up, making his speech sound funny.

Work out what Max is trying to say in the following sentences and write out the sentence correctly underneath.

1. Something bot me on the hittom.

2. I headed my bang.

3. My ache bads headly.

The Hodgeheg

by Dick King-Smith

4. I hound where the fumans cross over.

5. Not if you're a hodgeheg.

Now try making these sentences into Spoonerisms.

1. Max crawled under his own front gate.

2. The cyclist pedalled sadly away.

3. He wobbled dazedly along the deserted pavement.

The Hodgeheg

by Dick King-Smith

Spoonerisms

Because Max got a bump on the head, his thoughts are all muddled up and his speech becomes confusing. He starts to use “Spoonerisms” – these are where he gets the first sounds of some words mixed up, making his speech sound funny.

Work out what Max is trying to say in the following sentences and write out the sentence correctly underneath.

1. Something bot me on the hittom.

2. I headed my bang.

3. My ache bads headly.

The Hodgeheg

by Dick King-Smith

4. I hound where the fumans cross over.

5. Not if you're a hodgeheg.

Now try making these sentences into Spoonerisms.

1. Max crawled under his own front gate.

2. The cyclist pedalled sadly away.

3. He wobbled dazedly along the deserted pavement.