

HEXAGONAL DESIGN

1. Draw a 2cm border around a sheet of art paper.
2. Using a hexagonal template (or any other 2D shape), trace around the shape in the centre of the page. Continue to draw hexagons, starting from the central shape, around the rest of the page, allowing some hexagons to be only half or partially seen at the edge of the page.
3. From one side in each hexagon, draw some abstract shape inside each hexagon, ensuring that no two abstract shapes are back to back.
4. Paint the shapes using any desired colour scheme. Suggestions could be: cold colours; warm colours; primary colours; secondary colours; complimentary colours; tints and hues of a particular colour etc. Alternatively, pupils can use crayons, pastels or any other colour medium.
5. Paint the border black.
6. When the paint has dried, outline all the hexagonal shapes and the abstract shapes using a thick black permanent marker.
7. These should make a colourful display.
8. This lesson should focus on use of colour, pattern and shape.
